About Me

I am the founder and creative director of Tim-K Styles, a Belfast-based fashion brand dedicated to creating bespoke and contemporary designs that celebrate individuality and elegance. With a deep passion for tailoring and fashion innovation, I combine traditional craftsmanship with modern aesthetics to deliver high-quality, unique pieces for every occasion. My vision is to redefine personal style, ensuring each garment tells a story and reflects the wearer's personality.

Over the years, I have honed my skills in custom tailoring, design, and fabric selection, building a portfolio that spans casual wear, formal attire, and bridal collections. At Tim-K Styles, we focus on precision, creativity, and client satisfaction, turning ideas into wearable art. My mission is not only to craft exceptional fashion but also to inspire confidence and sophistication in everyone who experiences our designs.
